Floor Coatings Frequently Asked Questions

Thank you for your interest in Cal-Co Floor Coatings. We appreciate your consideration and allowing us the opportunity to estimate your project. Flaked floors are an investment in your property, providing long lasting visual appeal and protection.

How long does the floor coating process take?

Depending on your concrete's current condition and the amount of space to be coated, the residential process typically takes 2-3 business days.

How long before I can use my floor normally again?

Light foot traffic is generally allowed 24-36 hours after the last coat of clear is applied. If your coatings are going in a garage space, we suggest waiting 2-3 days before driving on your new floor. These times can vary depending on temperature and coating thickness.

What is the life expectancy of the floor coatings?

You can expect to get decades of use and visual appeal out of your new floor. Some heavy traffic areas may require a scuff and application of clear coat to bring back that showroom shine, which is usually after 8-10+ years.

Where can floor coatings be applied?

We can literally apply flaked coatings over any concrete floor, and in some cases- even wood! Stairs and landings are a common place that we install coatings that are not always concrete.

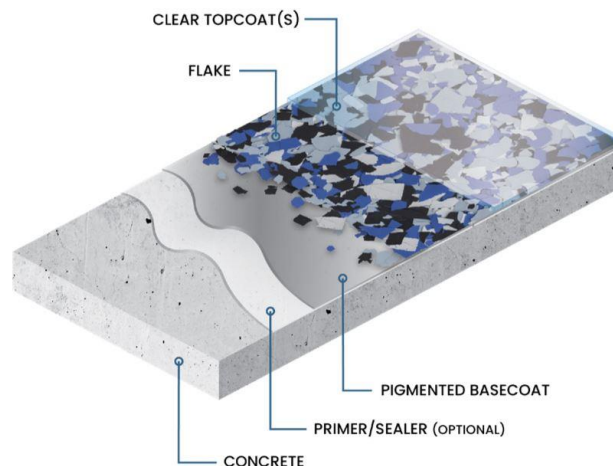

What can I expect for maintenance?

Your new floor is a finished decorative floor. Sweeping or mopping often will free your floor of any harmful debris that could damage the clear coat. Deep cleans, power washing, or acidic chemicals are strongly discouraged and can damage your floor. Using water and a soft rag or sponge will clean your floor and leave it with a glossy shine.

Can these floors work in businesses too?

Yes! We have done 500,000+ square feet of floor coatings in commercial spaces including dealerships, hospitals, and office buildings. Not only will your customers be impressed, but your business will also save money long term by installing a floor that will outlast any other material on the market by twice or more.

Our team takes pride in the work we do and with nearly 20 years of experience, you can be certain that your project is completed to the highest standards and within the timeframe allotted. We look forward to hearing from you and welcome any questions or concerns you may have. Feel free to contact us at your convenience.
